Over 200 members of the Toy Loan and many friends braved the heat Friday afternoon to enjoy a delightful party arranged for them by members of the Sierra Madre Civic club.

Contests and games, including sack races, and a "Trip to Toonerville," were arranged for all age groups, and prizes were awarded the winners. Pink lemonade and ice-cream cones were served, and a candy scramble ended the afternoon.

Mrs. J. J. Butler, Mrs. Alan Thompson, Mrs. Douglas Berkshire, Mrs. Wallace Goodwin, Mrs. John Robertson, Mrs. Anne Tyler and Miss Ruth Miles were in charge of events throughout the afternoon and were assisted by several mothers of Toy Loan members.

Sierra Madre Water Pressure Sufficient

There are one or two small areas in Sierra Madre considered as having low water pressure, and are located immediately below the reservoirs, which means a large volume of water is available.

A new standby well, completed some two years ago, will deliver 1500 gallons per minute in addition to that being produced now by the other two wells.

Water Supt. Jos. Swanson attends a meeting each month of representatives of water departments from approximately 40 cities. Discussions at these meetings show Sierra Madre has better water pressure than the average city.

To assure further protection, the city council has purchased a new 750-gallon LaFrance pumper for the Fire Department, which will be delivered in approximately 30 days. Sierra Madre will then have two 750-gallon pumpers available at all times.

Local Shipment to Navy Hospital

The local unit of the Bundles for America is shipping 40 pajama suits to the Norfolk Navy hospital tomorrow. The ladies have made by hand these suits in the last six weeks at their work room, on Baldwin Ave. Last week their shipment was a large amount of re-processed clothing to the New York area.

ROLLIN L. McNITT SPEAKS AT DEMOCRATIC CLUB

Rollin L. McNitt, prominent Los Angeles attorney, will be guest speaker at the Sierra Madre Democratic club on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Woman's clubhouse. The title of Mr. McNitt's address will be "What Do the Democratic and Republican Parties Hold for the Future?"

Mr. McNitt is president emeritus of the Southwest School of Law and is a professor of international law, labor law and constitutional law. He is past president of the Lawyers' Club of Los Angeles and a member of a committee of 200 experts who drafted the International Law for the Post-War organization.

The club extends an invitation to everyone, regardless of political affiliation. Refreshments will be served during which people will be able to meet and talk with Mr. McNitt personally.

Capt. Moore Injured at Guam July 25

The story of storming Chonito Ridge on Guam, July 25, brings the war very close to Sierra Madre, for at this siege Capt. William B. Moore whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moore, 920 Orange Grove Ave., was seriously wounded, receiving a rifle bullet through the left lung. From a Marine Combat correspondent report the Marines charged up two 60-degree slopes with only short grass as a cover from the terrific machine-gun fire. Out of Capt. Moore's company of 225 men only 85 escaped being killed or wounded. Mr. and Mrs. Moore have been notified that their son is making satisfactory recovery at Marine hospital in Hawaii.

CAPTAIN MOORE

Working with the chairmen will be Jodie Cox in charge of the snack bar; Phyllis Jean Lentz, entertainment; Marvel Roberts, decorations, and Jean Askew in charge of publicity at Wilson and Mary Ann Woelner heading publicity at Monrovia, and Mrs. Harold Drury, representing the Woman's club. —Gleam Drury, Press Chairman.

Open Republican Headquarters Here

The local Republican Committee will open campaign headquarters in the Sierra Madre Hotel Bldg. at 32 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., Monday, Sept. 18. It will be open daily, except Sunday, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., with an executive secretary in charge.

Before the primary election in May the committee made a very successful drive to register as large percentage of the city's eligible voters as possible. Since that time a number of newcomers have moved into this city, and the committee urges all such newcomers, if qualified voters, regardless of party affiliation, to register before Sept. 28 that they may not lose their American privilege of voting in their national election Nov. 7. Sierra Madre believes in truly representative elections, judging by past election figures and percentages, according to the committee, and this record should be maintained.

Registration can be made at the city hall during regular office hours. Any voter unable to register during those hours should phone the city clerk's office, 3322, and ask for the address and number of the deputy registrar nearest his or her home. There is one in each precinct who will be glad to arrange for a convenient appointment.

Sierra Madre Asked to Send 50 Soldier Boxes

Kiwanis Club to Send 20 to Boys for Christmas. Must Go by Sept. 23

An emergency call for Christmas cheer has come to the Sierra Madre Red Cross this week. The National Red Cross is calling up its friends so as to give a Christmas present to every service man in a hospital or who may be at sea on Christmas Day. The first call in this plan has been received asking for 50 boxes or packages by September 23. These will be for men who will be at sea on Christmas Day.

In order that shipping space may be used to best advantage, and that all may share about alike, certain rules have been set up as guides to friends who will furnish the gifts.

Each package must measure exactly 6"x4"x4" in order that space may be conserved in shipment.

The minimum value is set at $1, the maximum value at $2.

Each package should have one central present of substantial value, in addition to whatever the donor might wish in small tokens.

No food, perishable articles or sharp instruments should be sent, but games, pocket editions of books, wallets, toilet articles, cigarettes, pipes, writing material, and hard candy would be welcome.

Sierra Madre is asked to send 50 such presents on this first call, and the Kiwanis club has already promised 20. Let us have them in the Red Cross office by Saturday, September 23. As other calls will come from time to time presents may be given as soon or as often as one desires.

FINED FIFTY DOLLARS FOR REFUSE BURNED AFTER HOURS

Mrs. James Stratton was in the local court Tuesday charged with burning rubbish out of hours in an open fire. She pleaded guilty to the charge of out of hours but stated she thought the incinerator was satisfactory and safe to use. She was fined $50.

The authorities are bearing down upon violators of the ordinance as to fires, as it is a dry time and with the hills and mountains above a very disastrous fire could easily be started.

The hours in which rubbish may be burned are from 6 to 9 a.m., when there is NO WIND and must be carefully supervised.

First Lieutenantcy to Frank E. Vane

Sgt. Frank E. Vane, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Vane, 202 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., has been commissioned a first lieutenant at Love Field, Dallas, Tex. Fifth Ferrying Group, Ferrying Division of the ATC.

CLUB CONTINUES THE FRIDAY NIGHT FLINGS

Next Party Sept. 22. Committee Chairmen are Selected

By popular demand of the teenagers, the Sierra Madre Woman's club at their last board of directors' meeting voted to continue with the dances which have been so successful throughout the summer months.

The dances will be held every other Friday night and the next dance is scheduled for Friday, September 22. Admission will be 25c plus 5c federal tax and music will start at 8:30 p.m. and continue until midnight.

The board also decided to buy a juke box, if one can possibly be obtained, so that it will be available for their own use as well as for the teen-age dances.

Forty dollars in Defense Stamps were purchased by the young people who attended last week's dance.

At an open meeting held Tuesday night at the clubhouse, approximately 40 attended to elect Jackie LaFleur and Mike Castaneda as co-chairmen for the dances for the next two months.

Working with the chairmen will be Jodie Cox in charge of the snack bar; Phyllis Jean Lentz, entertainment; Marvel Roberts, decorations, and Jean Askew in charge of publicity at Wilson and Mary Ann Woelner heading publicity at Monrovia, and Mrs. Harold Drury, representing the Woman's club. —Gleam Drury, Press Chairman.

U. S. CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION FOR SIERRA MADRE POSTMASTER

Application form and information can be secured at the local post office for the open, competitive examination for Postmaster of Sierra Madre.

The time and place of the examination will be announced later and it will be sent on the entrance cards. The applications must be in Washington, D.C., by September 22.

OBSERVATIONS

I think the new owners of this paper should have a few words of explanation about our town. Though they have chosen it for their home and their efforts they may not fully realize its personality. It isn't just another town. In many ways it isn't as alert as many other towns. In other ways it is far ahead of, or above, any other town we know of. We Sierra Madreans freely admit the latter superiority, and calmly cancel out the formerly mentioned inferiority.

The Wards mustn't feel hurt if we call their newspaper "The Squeak." That is just our way. We are just as fond of it and as proud of it as if we spoke of it as the Thunderer. Every boy away in service realizes that it is the best letter from home, in addition to word from his own loved ones, that he can get. It is almost universal habit to nickname things we love. There is not one of us who is not fonder of "Old Baldy" and "Old Grayback" than he ever can be of Mt. San Antonio or Mt. San Geronimo, and it is the same with "The Squeak."

Sierra Madre is a friendly town but so many persons come here to get away from it all that it has learned never to be intrusive. Not only the Wards but all newcomers, of whom we have many now, may get a tip from this: If you wish to make friends go to church, the Arts Guild, meetings at the school-house or other public gatherings. But if you remain at home and wait to be called on you are likely to stay there till your feet sprout, for some newcomers who wish to be let alone have taught us our lesson. Among its other championships, Sierra Madre has as many peculiar characters as any place twice its size.

LEE SHIPPEY.

COUNTER OBSERVATION

We appreciate the good advice which Lee has given us. (Note that we are already calling him Lee so that people won't think we are afraid of noted people and are accustomed to fraternizing with them.)

We have already discovered for ourselves some of the things he has told us. So far we have found Sierra Madre to be as "near Heaven," as one lady put it, as any place can be. We have never been privileged to find such a spot where everyone boasts the home town to the skies and says it is the finest, healthiest, the most beautiful spot on earth.

Seriously, people whom we have met have been so cordial and friendly that already we feel like old residents and we, too, have joined the Boosters' Club.

When a friend wrote us that he thought the News might be purchased, I remarked that I didn't know much about the newspaper, but that there wasn't a place in the country where I would rather reside than in Sierra Madre, and so made the trip here from Michigan a few weeks ago to see if that could be brought about.

As far as "The Squeak" is concerned, we are proud of the name, for when my friends call me Cliff, I feel that I have arrived and belong. As Lee says, we nickname the people and things we love. People don't play jokes on persons they don't like but on the guy that can take it and like it.

Webster defines Squeak as a shrill, sharp, penetrating sound as by a mouse. We hope that "The Squeak" may develop into a little louder sound and that we may be men, not mice.

CLIFFORD C. WARD.

Council Puts In a Busy Session

Many Important Matters are Discussed at Tuesday Evening Session

At the council meeting Tuesday evening, a number of important matters were taken up, including plans for a postwar public works program, the matter of possibly securing additional fire equipment from the State War Council at no expense to our city, etc.

Scouts Merritt Williams and Calvin Floyd requested permission from the council to put a camp grounds for Boy Scouts on city property. Mayor Froehlich appointed Councilmen Reynolds and McGill to work with Scout Master Harry Caskey in the selection of this site.

The city attorney was instructed to prepare an application for an appropriation from the State to obtain the necessary right-of-way for the Bailey Canyon debris basin.

A letter was read from Mrs. Phyllis Morland, regarding stray dogs, and the council instructed the police chief to enforce the Dog Ordinance and to start collection of dog licenses at once. The present Dog Ordinance was ordered referred to the ordinance committee for study and recommendations.

Councilman Thomas Reynolds was appointed as a representative from the city on the board of directors of the League of California Cities.

Kiwanians Elect Five New Directors

Postmaster T. R. Durning Spoke on Jap Question

Five new directors were elected at the Kiwanis club meeting Tuesday.—Francis Bakman, Selmer Peterson, Roy Pickett, Carl Hansen and P. R. Penn.

Postmaster Thomas R. Durning was the speaker of the day, his subject being, "Shall the Japanese be Allowed to Return to the Pacific Coast?"

His experience as an official at several Japanese relocation centers gives him a first-hand knowledge of the situation and he set forth some reasons why he feels that it is extremely unwise to even consider their return to the west coast.

There are many reasons, he said, why the Japs should never be returned to the Pacific Coast. Whether they are American or foreign-born makes no difference. At Santa Anita we received five to six thousand copies of the daily papers each day. When the Japs were winning and enjoying success in the Pacific, these papers would last no more than an hour. But when our boys began to turn them back at Midway, the papers remained on the shelves of the canteens from early morning to evening, clearly showing the Japs' attitude.

When I went to Heart Mountain, Wyoming, I found strikes the order of the day. The Japs would not unload the coal on the sidings, which the government furnished at no cost to them. They wanted pay for eight hours for four hours' work. There were 10 cars of freight on which there were demurrage charges.

All the Japs wanted to know was when they would get back the literature which we took from them and I replied they would be withheld for the duration, as would 1800 sharp knives which we took from them. A civilian was chief of police at Heart Mountain but when the Japs were permitted to form their own democratic government, they insisted that he be replaced by a Jap police chief.

This was done and then the entire police department in the Center was made up of Japs. Thus they had a democratic form of government with Tokyo control. There was little control over them—they had good beds, good food and, I fear, plenty of money for use whenever they tance against their return to the coast.

I made a study of the kind of people the Japs really are. After losing our son at Pearl Harbor, I wanted this information, and I came to the realization that 90 per cent of them are not loyal to the United States.

Not one of the 25,000 Japs here on the coast thought enough of Uncle Sam to warn him of what they knew was going to happen, before Dec. 7, 1941. Two Jap business concerns closed up in Redondo, a week before the attack on Pearl Harbor. At least those Japs who refused to work and cooperate and those known to be disloyal should be deported. How can they be trusted again? Never again do we want them on the Pacific Coast, he concluded.

Laura Stevens Returned Thursday

Laura Stevens, well-known water-color artist, has returned from a summer of sketching and painting in New York. Mrs. H. Randolph Wood gave a patio family supper Saturday.

Volunteer Aid for War Chest Gratifying

Sierra Madreans Cooperating Whole-Heartedly in 1944 Drive

William A. Kinney, Chairman of Advance Gifts for the forthcoming War Chest drive in Sierra Madre, announced that appeals for volunteer help have been met with ready response by local citizens. Members of his committee have been selected and will be announced next week. Considerable help is still needed, however, for the arduous task of block-to-block canvassing.

The budgets for many agencies are necessarily larger this year. The war is one year older, making the need that much greater. There are twice as many American prisoners of war as there were at the same time last year and strains on the home front are increasing.

Deadly monotony is the most powerful foe of our boys who are held prisoners of war by the enemy. War Prisoners Aid gives them books for mental development, athletic equipment to keep the body fit, musical instruments for fun and study, courses of instruction to brush up on a profession or trade, to learn a new one. Prisoners of war held by all belligerents now total approximately 7,000,000. Nearly 50,000

American boys are interned in enemy prison camps. War Prisoners Aid is permitted by international agreement to provide for the recreational, educational and spiritual welfare of internees.

Food, clothing, medical supplies and other aid to Allied countries through war relief societies for Belgium, Britain, China, Russia, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, Greece, Italy, Lithuania, Philippines, Norway, Poland, Yugoslavia, Luxembourg, Dutch refugees, care of European children, and field ambulance services are all being supplied by the War Chest, and when peace is won, the long war of rehabilitation will only begin.

LEE SHIPPEY'S HEAR OF SON IN GERMANY

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Shippey received word from the War Department Monday that their son, Tech. Sgt. Henry Shippey, a prisoner of war, had been transferred by the German Command from Stalag B-2 to B-3. This information falls in with the European picture as the Red Cross Maps of Prison Camps indicated that the B-2 camp is in the Polish corridor and the B-3 is near Berlin.

SGT. DONALD H. JACKSON

Probably Sgt. Don Jackson is one of Sierra Madre's finest fighting men. He has taken part in most of the recent major battles and invasions in the South Pacific. He went through the Tarawa campaign, was given a rest period and returned for the clean-up of Saipan Island. His mother, Mrs. E. L. Jackson, 55 Auburn, received a picture of Don following the Saipan affair and she says he looked rather thin and, of course, had a several days' beard.

LT. BLAKEMAN AND MISS LEWIS MARRIED

A wedding of more than passing interest took place last Monday at twilight in the patio of the First Methodist church of Pasadena when Lt. Milton R. Blakeman and Miss Mary Katherine Lewis spoke their marriage vows before Dr. Arthur O. Fritchard.

The bride, a daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Robert S. Lewis of Salt Lake City, wore a brocade of white; the veil held in place with an off-the-face tiara of net was finger length, and her bouquet was bouvardia with a violet orchid. The bride was given away by her uncle, Ralph Wirth of Arcadia, inasmuch as Prof. Lewis was unable to be present.

The maid-of-honor, Ruth Lewis, and bridesmaid, Hope Horsfall were identical gowns of pale fuchsia with feather flower headpieces and shoulder veils of the fuchsia hues and carried arm bouquets of yellow rose buds.

The best man was Bill Eley, assisted by Richard M. Beattie. Lt. Blakeman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Blakeman, 117 E. Grand View.

Lt. and Mrs. Blakeman will be at Long Beach until the last of October when they will go to Oklahoma City where Lt. Blakeman is to report at the Will Rogers Field October 25. Lt. ### Hastings Ranch Rumors Again Prove False

The Hastings Ranch, at Foothill and Michillinda Blvds., was again the subject of widely circulated rumors when it was reported that a sale had been made for residential subdivision.

This piece of property, over 1000 acres, is part of an estate administered by Comdr. Ernest Crawford May and is to be sold, when the right price is offered, in not less than two parcels. No such proposal has materialized and when it does the property can be sold only on court approval after analysis of formal bids.

This rumor, added to the already planned development of one 36-acre property and one 20-acre property just west of the Hastings Ranch, led real estate and investment men to look for an outstanding development of this entire area within the next few years.

Local Schools Receive $80 Per Pupil State Aid

State support for the Sierra Madre elementary school district for last year averaged $63.98 per pupil in average daily attendance in the district, California Taxpayers' Association stated today, answering the question, "How much do elementary school districts in California get from the State?"

This is more than double the $29.45 per pupil in average daily attendance provided by the State for 1932-33, the year preceding amendment to the State constitution under which State support of elementary schools was approximately doubled, the association stated.

THREE IS A FAMILY COMING TO BILTMORE

Programmed as a "yell-raising" farce comedy, "Three is a Family" comes as a John Golden hit to the Biltmore Thursday night, September 14, for a limited engagement, matinees Wednesday and Saturday and performances every night including Sunday.

"Three is a Family" has been written by Phoebe and Henry Ephron, a young married couple who have capitalized their own experience as parents of a young daughter to compose this comedy on the hilarious disruptions caused by the presence of a baby in the small, comfortable home of middle-aged people when the baby and its mother move in, following the father's entry into the Army. The comedy ran to capacity audiences in New York ever since it first scored its hit-status there. Following the Broadway engagement, John Golden is sending "Three is a Family" on this transcontinental tour with the original Broadway cast featuring Una Merkel, Robert Burton and William Wadsworth.

What They Say ---

GEO. STOUT, State Liquor Administrator, Sacramento — "V-Day will be a day of great solemnity on which we should appropriately spend more time in the tabernacle and less in the tavern."

DR. ALAIN LOCKE, Negro Ph.D., speaking in L.A. — "It is possible that India, China and other oriental nations will prefer Russia to the U. S. because of Russia's accomplishments in solving the race question."

ADMIRAL CARLETON H. WRIGHT, Commandant, 12th Naval Dist. — "The American soldier does not kill with joy as does the Frenchman who has been driven from his land or the Englishman who has seen his home leveled. But when a Yank loses a pal in battle, God help the foe who falls into his hands in the next few minutes."

Keep them from sin and from hate; may they keep alive the flame of civility and generosity in the hour of victory. ## An Important Duty

The process of returning veterans to civilian life is an infinitely more complicated procedure than calling men out for military service. The office mechanics alone, involved in the official discharge of the millions now in uniform, are staggering. Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service Director, has estimated that if 1000 men are discharged every hour, it will take 10 months to demobilize 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 men.

Not only must these men be fitted into a civilian economy, but as honorably discharged veterans they are endowed with new and extraordinary rights and privileges resulting from military service. They are not the untried civilians they were before they were mustered into bootcamp. They have a new status and a right to know what it involves.

A new 60-page booklet, issued by the Veterans' Administration, lists 56 major benefits to which veterans of this war are entitled. Further, it discusses for the benefit of discharged service men and women the subjects of re-employment, exemption from property taxes, State farm and home purchase programs, unemployment insurance, education, pensions and hospitalization. Additional benefits are provided in the G. I. Bill of Rights recently enacted by Congress.

The booklets are being distributed to committees being organized in virtually all communities to help veterans make the readjustment to civilian life.

When Selective Service goes into reverse, the responsibility resting on such local committees will be as great as that imposed upon draft boards. It is to be hoped that Washington will not plague them with the same confusing directives as have kept most of the draft boards in a state of wonderment and perplexity.

Valuable Assets

In a humanized version of the cold facts and figures concerning our huge new "population growth, and the resultant economic factors," Robert C. Elliot, of the San Francisco News, points out some interesting facts that might easily be missed in the mass of computations. He calls attention, too, to some potential assets that are apt to be considered in the liability column.

"If you want to know what your chances in business or a job will be after the war," Elliot advises, "consider the greatest single asset this State has gained in the last four years—an extra million and a half people."

Most of the newcomers, he reminds us, are over 20 years old and under 40, and so California reaps their skills, their productivity, their children and their vitality. "They're the marrying, child-bearing, same sort of lusty Americans that came in waves and built the West in the past."

The State Reconstruction and Re-employment Commission, source of the factual material, is not lacking, either, in building word-pictures to accompany its figures, charts and tables. "When Johnny comes marching home again," says Van Beuren Stanbury, research chief, "the first thing he will do is claim his wartime bride, who has been waiting in her parents' home ever since the marriage. The two will look around for a place to live and will start buying all the things that transform a house into a home—four or five rooms of furniture, a refrigerator, rugs, draperies, percolators, linens, and in the fullness of time, baby buggies and diapers. In so doing they will have added still more to the enormous wartime increases of individual family units in California."

More and more we are coming to believe that if we can approach our tremendous new population problems realistically, and plan our course objectively as well as optimistically, the new citizens within our borders—who came to do war jobs but stay because they like it here—will be a valuable asset to the communities of their choice, and to the State as a whole.

A Modern Miracle

The records established in production, and outfitting armies and in meeting the thousands of other emergency needs of war, constitute modern miracles, unbelievable in any earlier era. But the greatest miracle of all is in the daily record of lives saved and maimed bodies reclaimed. There, America's military medical men have a record of achievement that is both magnificent and heart-warming.

A War Department announcement reveals that our gallant medical corps men and women are bringing about the recovery of 96 per cent of all the men wounded in action—and that about two-thirds are returned to active duty.

Part of the credit for this miracle is given to modern mobile surgery which brings treatment to the men on the front lines. The dangerous delays of previous days when wounded men were brought to base hospitals in the rear before receiving treatment, have been eliminated. New reconditioning techniques developed by the armed forces also have played a major part in achieving today's medical miracles. Every modern technical device and procedure is employed in restoring wounded men to health. Strange gadgets are used to strengthen limbs, backs and abdomens gone flabby. In competitive games, the men forget the casts on their limbs.

Here and There

by Dean A. G. H. Bode

My friend Bodger of Papua, which is part of New Guinea, has been round to see me again. After his first visit last October I wrote in this column the story of the help given to our boys by the natives of his mission and other mission stations, in finding the wounded and carrying them over the Owen Stanley range to safety and recovery, and of their carrying on their shoulders the munitions and supplies with which the Japanese were defeated and kept from invading Australia, and of their help as scouts and lookouts whenever the Japanese were approaching. Since his visit here in October he has been traveling in the United States, Canada and England lecturing and broadcasting, and visiting parents of many of our boys in the service, some of whom were wounded or lost, and had recuperated at the mission stations with the help of the doctors and nurses. He had so much of interest to tell that I thought I might pass on some more of it to the readers of this column.

Mr. Bodger, who is sub-dean of the Cathedral of Papua, master of a large school for native boys, minister, doctor, teacher, sports leader and friend of the Papuans, carries a letter from Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in which the General has written: "May I take this opportunity to express my deep appreciation of the service you and your mission performed in assisting the armed forces in Papua and to wish you every success in your tour in the United States."

The "fuzzy wuzzies" who assisted the forces are in many cases the sons of head hunters and cannibals and were unknown to the outside world. With the help of a few devoted white men and women they have become kindly, educated Christians who have suddenly won fame and gratitude everywhere for their goodness to our boys. A moving picture has just been completed in Hollywood which will give the world anew the story of their help. It is called: "We, Too, Receive." The idea in this title must be: We helped them, now they help us. The value of missions has now been proved beyond all question. The dividends have been the lives of many of our boys.

Natives who had not been reached and were not Christians were bribed by the Japanese to reveal the whereabouts of three nurses and a Christian boy, who were all killed by the Japanese. Natives buried the nurses in the mission cemetery. When friends afterwards visited their graves, they found another boy who kept repeating the name, Lucian. It dawned upon the visitors that this was the boy who had been hidden with the nurses. He had been killed trying to defend them, and was buried outside the cemetery. The boy was comforted when they extended the fence to include the grave of Lucian and had said a prayer over the grave. If the betraying natives had had the opportunity to become Christians no doubt these lives would not have been lost to the Japanese.

But according to Mr. Bodger the Japanese were not always barbarous. One of their planes flew, in great danger, over Port Moresby sometime before Christmas and dropped a large bundle. The bundle contained an enormous number of letters to the homefolks, written by our boys in prisoners' camps. Many of our homes were gladdened by this kindness.

It is pretty well established that some of the Japanese higher officers are Christian men, and when that is the case prisoners have humane treatment. Lives were saved when Mr. Bodger, who had seen airplanes in trouble, and helped to rescue pilots from the sea, set the native boys to make landing strips, one of them 1100 yards in length, cutting grass, uprooting trees, taking out boulders and filling the holes. From these airfields wounded and sick men have been flown out and many servicemen, Americans and Australians, have been brought in to recuperate after illness, in sunny days and cool nights, with hot baths and milk and good food, and the care of mission doctors and nurses. Before Mr. Bodger left, 5000 servicemen had passed through his mission.

Now we should hear something more about the natives. After the head-hunting and tribal fights were ended with the help of wise and humane government administrators, strenuous contests in sports were introduced and found to be an excellent substitute, besides educating in team work and fair play. Games of cricket and football, tug o' war, and other contests were kept up between missions. Lately our American boys taught baseball to natives who soon excelled their teachers, just as they did the Australians in cricket and football.

Mr. Bodger was at the baseball field last Saturday getting points on the game for future use in New Guinea.

Contrary to the common opinion there is no attempt to make foolish changes in the clothing of the natives, as may sometimes have been the case in the past. The men and boys from the missions of the various churches in New Guinea often meet in the cathedral, all wearing the same native costume—the loin cloth they have always worn; and the women and girls wear what we call "grass skirts," which are not made of grass, but leaves of plants like the banana. They wear four or five or more skirts, one over the other. At the consecration of the Cathedral, which seats 2000, sitting on the floor, the number attending from various churches was 3000. To get them all in, girls were asked by the nurses to leave off two or three of the skirts, thus enabling three to sit where two sat before. The boys sat on one side, the girls on the other.

All good native customs are preserved. Mr. Bodger has moving pictures in color of the native festival on the Cathedral green, following the service in the Cathedral. The natives were decorated, the men with plumes of birds of paradise, and the women and girls with flowers; all dancing on the green, and many bringing presents to the Archbishop, who returned the compliment according to New Guinea etiquette, by distributing gifts of candy. The offering of the natives in the Cathedral was divided; half to the poor of London who had been bombed; half to Red Cross and other war relief; nothing for themselves.

The troops and the natives shared a mutual regard and friendship, our boys being very careful to keep the respect of the natives, who are as intelligent as we are, and very sincere in their religion. On Saturday nights the natives would be reading their New Testament and little books in preparation for Sunday communion. Sometimes when the curfew rang, and planes were droning nearby, many of our officers and men would be wakened to hear from the dormitory the natives singing in the Wedauan language the evening hymn:

Lord, keep us safe this night
Secure from all our fears
May angels guard us while we sleep
Till morning light appears.

Governor Proclaims September 11-18 ALL OUT REGISTRATION WEEK

YOUR VOTE is the Life Blood of Democratic Government

Your Blood may be the Life Blood of some SOLDIER

Believing that every American regardless of political affiliation or convictions has the duty as well as the right to vote and that the obligation to participate in public decisions increases in wartime, I hereby urge the citizenry of every California community to make a final effort to increase our State registration by September 28.

The right to vote one's own convictions is a principle of democracy for which men are now offering their lives. We have properly shown concern over the right of these fighting men to vote and have adjusted our State laws to increase their opportunity. We must now add to their confidence in our management of the homefront by assuring them of our full participation in the decisions which lie ahead. This is a trust which they have placed in our hands for they are fighting for an ideal in government which imposes responsibility upon all and permits the expressed will of the majority to become the program of all.

September 28 being the final day for registering for the November 7 general election, it is important that every person qualified to register in California be urged to do so immediately. For this reason, I, Earl Warren, Governor of California, do hereby proclaim September 11-18 inclusive, with the exception of Sunday, September 17, as REGISTRATION DAYS in California and do hereby urge all citizens to join in a drive to make California's registration totals added proof of our full assumption of wartime responsibilities.

EARL WARREN,
Governor of California.

The unparalleled part which air power has played in this war has focused our attention on the men who fly our vast sky fleet. They have proved themselves daring and resourceful. They deserve unstinted praise. But too often we overlook the part played in their success by the men behind them—the ground crews. The mechanics, electricians, radio repair men have a grave responsibility resting upon them—and they know it. If the Flying Fortresses are taking off in the morning the ground crews work during the night. Each crew wants to be sure that "their plane" is in perfect condition when it takes off. Every instrument, every connection, every bit of mechanism from one end to the other must be meticulously checked. Not the smallest thing dare be overlooked. The answer to a ground crew's prayer comes when they see their "baby" winging in, through the afternoon sunlight, tall high and motors roaring smoothly. They know that their job was well done. So, to these men of the air force who must always "keep their feet on the ground" we owe much for America's success in the skies.

If the Nazis don't come out of this war with a profit it certainly will not be their job. They have done an expert job of looting. Take the matter of gold. Conservative estimates place the total gold seized from Germany's victims at not less than one billion dollars. Where the Nazis are hoarding all this metal is one of their dark secrets. But when the inevitable collapse comes, the unwilling "creditors" are going to demand return of their assets in no uncertain terms. Of course, the stolen gold is just one kind of loot. Individual Nazi soldiers were not bashful about sending "presents" back to the folks at home. The fact that these presents were the personal property of citizens of the invaded lands made no difference to them. The Germans are also reported to have dismantled entire factories in neighboring countries and shipped them back to the Reich. And they have had an "appreciative" eye for many of the art treasures of other nations which they sent back to Germany—"undoubtedly" for "safe keeping." Probably the Nazis have worked on the theory that if they stole enough it would be impossible to

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

A combination of careless outdoor burning of trash at the wrong time of the day and the accumulation of a hazardous growth of bamboo very near to a dwelling resulted in a disastrous fire last week. This affords the firemen an opportunity to cry, "We told you so," because of the pleadings made to residents to be careful with outdoor burning and asking them to remove thick growth from near buildings. We are not inclined to issue such a cry, but rather a plea to our citizens to take heed to avoid similar fires. Don't be one of those who are ever ready to repeat that same old worn-out statement, "Why, I have been burning stuff this way for years." It may only take one mistake some of these days to burn down a lot of homes. And when you are reporting the hazardous condition of your neighbor's yard, be certain that your own is in pretty fair condition. The firemen will appreciate both. One of our leading citizens just recently reported in a mild manner, the condition of his next door neighbor's yard. Somewhat alarmed at the manner of the man's attitude and at such possible conditions as he reported, the place was immediately inspected. Conditions were found bad, but not as bad as described by the complainant. The object of the complaint was found to be the yard of an elderly lady who was neither financially nor physically able to take care of the situation. It was also found that the complainant's incinerator was illegally located. A group of volunteers, most of whom were members of the F.F.F.S. Group, arose to the situation and aided the lady.

The importance of an early alarm is stressed. We would rather return to the station without having fought a fire than to have been called too late and have it said that "They saved the lot." If nothing else can be done, yell your head off to your neighbors. Get in an alarm just as soon as possible. Minutes count when it comes to stopping an unwanted fire.

PREMIERE SEPT. 21

Loaded with old favorites and sprinkled generously with new stars the thrill-jammed Ice Follies of 1945 will have its world premiere at the Pan-Pacific, 7600 Beverly Blvd., Los Angeles, Sept. 21.

Heading the list of ice champions who are again with the famed frosted fantasy are Roy Shipstad, world's smoothest skater; Eddie Shipstad and Oscar Johnson, top comic team of the North American continent; Heinie Brock, noted funnyman of the ice; North McCarthy, black-tressed Canadian beauty; Hazel Franklin, British ice queen; Frick and Frack, Swiss zanyes; Idi Papez and Karl Zwack, champs of Europe; the Thomas Twins, the Roberts, the Miltons, Baby Blake and Ruby Maxson.

Because of the gas shortage officials are advising obtaining tickets through the use of mail orders. Write to the Pan-Pacific, stating date and number of tickets desired. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for return of tickets.

This is the ninth annual edition of the Shipstads and Johnson show and those who have seen the show in rehearsal acclaim it greater than any of its predecessors. It will remain at the Pan-Pacific for a limited run.

Postmaster Outlines Needs for Gifts to Overseas Forces

Because of the war, we have a sort of "Christmas in June" situation—or more precisely, Christmas in September and October. This is just another way of saying that it is high time to get into the Santa Claus spirit and do your Christmas shopping for the boys and girls who are overseas.

"Save strong string and box material and start shopping now," Postmaster Tom Durning advised today, in reminding Sierra Madreans of the mailing period for both Army and Navy overseas forces—Sept. 15 to Oct. 15. After Oct. 15 no gift parcel can be mailed to a serviceman without the presentation of a written request from him.

The great demands upon shipping and the need for giving preference to arms, munitions, medicine and food is the prime reason for the early mailing date, Mr. Durning pointed out. Moreover, he said, gift parcels must travel great distances to reach Army and Navy personnel at remote points, and frequently the transfer of large numbers to new stations necessitates forwarding of packages.

The response that Sierra Madre made last year during the overseas mailing period demonstrated that our citizens will cooperate in any measure designed for the welfare of our armed forces personnel," the postmaster said. "It is not easy to concentrate on Christmas gifts in the midst of warm weather here at home but people realized last year that they must ship things in time if the men and women absent from their homes were to know that they were not forgotten at Christmas time."

Postmaster Durning said he knew the people will observe the overseas mailing schedule once more, but he stressed the fact that more care must be taken in wrapping and packing parcels and addressing them clearly and correctly.

"People," he said, "do not realize the vast number of packages at a postal concentration center that will never reach those for whom they are intended. Post-office personnel have orders to do all in their power to make delivery possible, because we know how important they are for the happiness of the armed forces. Too frequently, however, nothing can be done because of improper wrapping."

Mr. Durning said he is sorry that anyone ever mentioned that the size of a shoe box is the approximate limit for packages intended for overseas mailing. Unhappily, he said, many people have become convinced that a shoe box is the best possible container.

"We must be mindful that these gifts must travel far, with shipping space crowded. If the gifts are to be protected in transit they must be packed in boxes made of metal, wood, solid fiber board or strong, double-faced corrugated fiberboard, reinforced with strong gummed paper tape or tied with strong twine. If both tape and strong twine are used so much the better. If the outer wrapper is crushed—and this is likely to happen—the loss of contents may be prevented if the fiberboard boxes are wrapped in heavy paper."

Senders of overseas mail for the armed forces are urged to

"Christmas gifts mean much more to our people overseas," said Mr. Durning. "Because strong twine, heavy paper and boxes of fiberboard will prove of real help in making delivery of gifts possible I urge those at home to begin saving these materials now. As time goes on they are going to become even more scarce than at present."

Herds of War

"Out where the West begins" is where important food for war begins too.

The thundering herds of our western ranges stand for a basic food men eat to fight on, men eat to work on.

When the war cry went out for meat and still more meat, western ranchers, stockmen and farmers responded by raising the greatest number of beef cattle, hogs and sheep in the history of our country.

Put her there, partner! You're doing a great job in that fighting Home on the Range!

Phyllis Dukeshire at the Isle of Capri

WAC T/5 Phyllis Dukeshire, daughter of Philip D. Dukeshire, West Grand View Ave., writes her father that she was granted a "rest period," which she spent on the Isle of Capri. She claims that "Capri really is all they say it is," and that while there she visited the Blue Grotto. To get in, she explains, "you have to lie flat on the bottom while the boatman pushes the boat ahead by grasping a chain strung across the top of the cave opening. Then he lies back too and you slide through. The light all seems to come from under the water—the prettiest shade of blue you ever saw. Splash the oars and you'd think a thousand diamonds were being scattered."

But the horses will run again on that date unless the Los Angeles Turf Club experiences difficulty in obtaining labor required in getting the track in shape by the opening date. Hollywood Park received dates yesterday for a 34-day meeting starting Nov. 1.

LOCAL PASTOR CONFERS AT CAMP PILGRIM PINES

Rev. Frederic Grootsema of the Congregational Church attended the annual meeting of the board of directors of the Congregational Conference of Southern California and the Southwest, Tuesday at Camp Pilgrim Pines, north of Yucaipa.

The local pastor presented the annual report of the department of Christian Education of which he is director. This department has as its work the directing of summer camps for the young people of the church and this past year 1300 young people attended the camp at Pilgrim Pines. The setting up of college and university groups on the campuses of the Southland also is part of the task of the department as well as the training of church school workers. Two full-time ministers are employed by the department, one a minister of Christian Education for the conference and the other a chaplain to college students and service men on college campuses. A. A. Badger accompanied Rev. Grootsema to the conference.

Mrs. Sophia Robinson Cain, widow of the late Rev. Samuel W. Cain, passed away at her home, 647 Manzanita Ave., August 26. Mrs. Cain was for many years librarian of Bishop College, Marshall, Tex., also at Virginia Union University at Richmond, Va. At one time she was a teacher on the Tuscarora Indian Reservation in New York State.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Mary J. Bacon, Belvoir, Falls, Vt., and Mrs. J. E. Lloyd of this city and a brother, C. W. Jackson of Long Beach.

The funeral was from the parlors of Turner & Stevens, Pasadena. Dr. David J. Evans, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated. Interment at Rose Hill cemetery.

MRS. PERRY RETURNS TO SIERRA MADRE

Mrs. R. Dodge has returned to her home, 111 E. Orange Grove, having stayed with her father, DeVan Wenrich of Long Beach, during his recent illness and death. Mrs. Dodge's daughter, Mrs. Leonard Perry, will return to Sierra Madre in the near future, when Lt. Perry of the U. S. Navy assumes duty aboard ship in the Pacific. Lt. and Mrs. Perry were married the 12th of June in Detroit, Mich., which culminated a college romance after meeting at the University of Michigan where they both graduated from the Engineering school. Mrs. Perry's work qualified her as a Junior Engineer and until her marriage she was employed at the office of U. S. Engineers in Los Angeles.

Lt. Perry served one and a half years in the South Pacific preceding his training at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, which he has just completed.

Things you may not know about a busy western neighbor

Southern Pacific has been a part of western life for three quarters of a century. We've had our share of brickbats, and we've had our share of praise. Mostly we've been taken pretty much for granted, like the paper boy or the milkman.

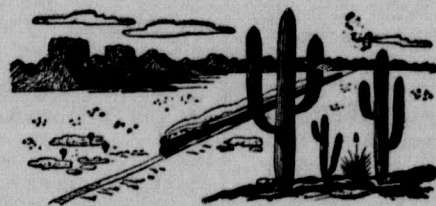

Since Pearl Harbor, though, people generally have regarded Southern Pacific and the other railroads with new understanding and appreciation. Now, when the chips are down, they seem to realize how indispensable the railroads really are.

Because of Southern Pacific's strategic location in relation to the war against Japan, we have been called upon to carry an enormous westbound burden. In addition, we are handling vast quantities of raw materials and finished products of greatly expanded western industries, plus an abnormally large eastbound movement of foodstuffs.

The six facts below may help explain the unprecedented burden we are carrying, and why our service to civilians is not as good as we'd like it to be:

1 In freight and passenger volume, Southern Pacific is the third largest railroad in America. Only the Pennsylvania and New York Central are carrying a bigger load than Southern Pacific.

2 Southern Pacific's 15,000 miles of line (more than any other United States railroad) are predominately single track, requiring the most accurate and exacting kind of railroad.

3 Southern Pacific serves more military and naval establishments than any other railroad in the U. S. From New Orleans to Portland an endless chain of air bases and encampments adjoins our line.

4 We serve more military meals to personnel of the armed forces than any other two U. S. railroads combined. And, of course, service men and women have first call on our restricted ration points.

5 Southern Pacific crosses innumerable mountain ranges, and has to climb more major summits than any other U. S. railroad. It takes more locomotives to pull trains up steep mountain grades.

6 Southern Pacific has the main north and south line along the Pacific Coast, serving the principal ports of embarkation from San Diego to Portland. Naturally, troop trains must come first with us.

YOUR HOME AND MINE BY ANNE WILSON

When the children dash in from school at noon, hungry and eager to get back before the tardy bell, you step around lively and fast to give them their lunch quickly.

Have you thought of letting your small electrical appliances help you get lunch? The toaster makes hot toast for sandwiches, which are spread at the table as needed and served hot. Sandwiches made in advance are given a buttery crunchiness on the outside by a sandwich grill. Waffles are a nourishing, easily prepared lunch. The electric drink mixer whips up delicious drinks which help give the children their daily milk requirement in an interesting manner.

According to health specialists, a proper school lunch contains one hot dish, milk in some form, fruit, food of high energy content which is easily digested, and a surprise! The surprise may be a simple dessert, a favorite fruit or cookie, or a new sandwich filling.

Here is a menu for an easy waffle lunch: Waffles, hot brown sugar syrup, banana flip.

Make the syrup by combining 1½ cups brown sugar and a few grains salt with ½ cup water. Boil until sugar is dissolved. Add ¼ teaspoon vanilla and serve hot.

To make the banana flip, slice a banana and mash slightly. Add 1 cup whole milk, ¼ teaspoon vanilla or ¼ teaspoon nutmeg and mix in the electric drink mixer.

♦ Early Sunday morning breakfast was served by Boy Scouts John Clauss and Max Huber at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Clauss, 220 W. Orange Grove Ave. Jerry Brown officiated as cooking, director and John and Max passed their first-class cooking requirement.

Her score would have been perfect except for a slight overweight. Her mother is Mrs. Helen Borda.

♦ The Misses Camilla Shearer and Libby Trimble are moving into the house at 247 N. Mountain Trail this week.
